

Sandvik

Sandvik, is a high technology engineering group with advanced products and with global business activities in more than 130 companies. Sandviks operations are based on its unique expertise in Materials Technology and extensive insight into customer processes.

The combination has given the company world leading positions in three primary areas: Tooling, Mining and Construction and Material Technology. Within the UK the company has several locations, the main manufacturing plant in Wolverhampton, and its Head office in Halesowen.

www.sandvik.com

“After speaking to Paul at Lawrence Cleaning, who got to grips with all the legalities and safety issues. he offered a speedy response to our requests.”

“Lawrence Cleaning have proved highly adaptable to changing requirements. Since our contract began in 2009, we have found them quick to respond and good communicators, understanding the needs of our company. Happy to work with us to achieve the best and most structured way of cleaning within the time given.”

“Lawrence Cleaning has a good professional make up, proficiently covering all the areas important to make working with them easy and highly effective”

“With an emphasis on Health and Safety, due to the machinery in the plant, we were conscious that previous contractors had not adhered to this. Standards of cleaning were not good, and we needed to sort out this problem.”

Robert Reynolds

